

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my confidence in, and recommendation of the Kid Millionaire financial literacy program. As an educator with over 15 years of experience in fostering the intellectual and personal growth of young learners, I have seen firsthand the importance of providing children with a solid foundation in essential life skills. Financial literacy, as an essential aspect of this foundation, plays a crucial role in helping students develop the confidence and understanding they need to manage their personal finances as they grow older.

In today's world, children are exposed to complex financial concepts and practices at an increasingly young age. With the rise of digital payments, budgeting apps, and online shopping, it is vital that children understand basic financial principles such as saving, budgeting, and the difference between needs and wants. By providing a structured and engaging financial literacy program, we can equip students with the tools to make responsible financial decisions in the future.

Ariel Community Academy is a school where Financial Literacy is taught K-8 and the adoption and incorporation of the Kid Millionaire program has been an invaluable addition to our Financial Literacy Program. More than that, Ms. Woods has catered her work to feed the individual needs of our young scholars, while incorporating many of the characteristics and culture that make Ariel Community Academy such a special place. I have witnessed numerous instances where students show curiosity about how money works, and this program would be an ideal way to channel that curiosity into meaningful learning. Furthermore, financial literacy can have a far-reaching impact on their academic success and personal growth. Understanding basic money concepts can help students become more organized, disciplined, and goal-oriented. These skills extend beyond just financial matters—they also foster critical thinking, problem-solving, and responsible decision-making.

I wholeheartedly support the implementation of this program and believe it will serve as an essential tool in empowering our students to thrive in a world that is increasingly shaped by financial decisions. I am confident that Kid Millionaire will not only improve the financial knowledge of our students but also positively influence their overall approach to education and life.

Thank you for considering this vital initiative. Should you need any further information or clarification, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Scott Scherquist, Principal
